SWITCHING BANK ACCOUNTS IN LUXEMBOURG

A GUIDE

Association des Banques et Banquiers, Luxembourg

The Luxembourg Bankers' Association

Luxemburger Bankenvereinigung

PURPOSE OF THE GUIDE

This guide explains the actions to be taken if you wish to change your payment account in Luxembourg. It describes the services provided by the Luxembourg banks to every consumer who wishes to transfer recurring payments (credit transfers, direct debits and standing orders) linked to his payment account from one bank established in Luxembourg to a payment account at another bank established in Luxembourg. Reasonable fees may be charged for certain services.

As a client, you are completely free to transfer all or part of your banking relationship to a different bank; your old payment account can remain active or you may decide to close it. This guide, and the facilities which are available, do not, however, cover the transfer of all banking services. There may be services other than those described in this guide (perhaps linked to a payment account and possibly offered as a “package”) from which you benefit at your present bank which cannot be transferred from one bank to another or are not covered by this guide.

The current guide is based on the provisions of the Law of 13 June 2017 on payment accounts, which transposes Directive 2014/92/EU of the European Parliament and the Council of 23 July 2014 on the comparability of fees related to payment accounts, payment account switching and access to payment accounts with basic features.

According to the Law of 13 June 2017, banks should provide assistance to consumers, wishing to open a payment account with a bank located in another Member State.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN IN THE EVENT OF A TRANSFER OF RECURRING PAYMENT TRANSACTIONS FROM ONE PAYMENT ACCOUNT TO AN OTHER PAYMENT ACCOUNT AT A DIFFERENT BANK

In principle, to transfer recurring payment services from your payment account at your old bank to your payment account at your new bank you have two options. You may:

- Either ask your new bank to initiate and manage the switching process
- Or you take all the actions with the old bank and the new bank yourself

YOU ASK YOUR NEW BANK TO INITIATE AND MANAGE THE SWITCHING PROCESS

If you ask your new bank to initiate and manage the switching process, you have to sign an authorisation (annex 1) which identifies the tasks to be fulfilled by the new bank and the old bank. You will receive a copy of the authorisation.

In the case of two or more holders of the account, authorisation shall be obtained from each of them.

For this purpose, transfer to the new bank all information it needs to inform the payers. You can inform the payers by yourself by using the standard letter (annex 3); 4. communicates to the payees specified in the authorisation and using a direct debit to collect funds from your payment account, of the details of your payment account as well as a copy of the authorisation (annex 1c). For this purpose, transfer to the new bank all information it needs to inform the payees. As the old bank has not all information on direct debit mandates SEPA DIRECT DEBIT signed by you, we suggest that you inform personally the payees of your new contact details by using the standard letter (annex 4). 5. Where relevant, informs you of your right to refuse to accept direct debits or to limit a direct debit collection to a certain amount or periodicity or both and to block any direct debits initiated by one or more specified payees or to authorise direct debits only initiated by one or more specified payees pursuant to Regulation (EU) 260/2012. 	The new bank <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. executes standing orders with effect from the date specified in the authorisation; 2. accepts the request of collection of direct debits with effect from the date specified in the authorisation.

You may use the model letter attached (Annex 3) for this purpose. ■ Bear in mind the time which the entities and persons concerned will need to implement the changes necessitated by your new bank account details. <h4>FUNDS DEBITED TO YOUR ACCOUNT (OUTGOING PAYMENTS)</h4> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ You should draw up your own list of creditors/suppliers or ask your old bank to let you have this list. If you have authorised some of your suppliers to debit your bills to your payment account by direct debit, you must inform these suppliers of your new bank account details. Your old bank will supply all available information free of charge in the previous 13 months. Bear in mind that the old bank does not have all the information on the direct debit mandates SEPA DIRECT DEBIT, you have signed. ■ Convey your new bank account details to the creditors/suppliers concerned. For this purpose you may use the attached model letter (Annex 4). ■ Bear in mind the time which the entities and persons concerned will need to implement the changes necessitated by your new bank account details. <h4>SET UP THE LIST OF YOUR STANDING ORDERS</h4> <h3>B.2</h3> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ You must maintain a sufficient provision on your old payment account to be able to honour your current liabilities. ■ Agree on a specific date for termination of the payments with the old bank.

B.3

Ask for direct debits and standing orders to be set up on your new payment account from a date after the date of cancellation and termination of payments from your old payment account

B.3

The new bank will set up standing orders following the receipt of the necessary documents and information to do so.

C.

Closing the old payment account

The new bank may assist you with the necessary actions by supplying the attached model letter (Annex 5) asking for the payment account at the old bank to be closed and for the remaining balance to be transferred to the payment account at your new bank.

For further information, please refer to the chapter on “Closing old payment account”.

CLOSING THE OLD PAYMENT ACCOUNT

If you wish to close your old payment account, please make sure beforehand that no future payment transaction is liable to be processed on your old payment account. For some weeks, payment transactions may still be effected via a payment card and bank charges may still be due.

In that case you must maintain an adequate provision on this payment account to enable you to honour your current liabilities.

DO NOT FORGET TO

- regularise your situation if the balance of your old payment account is in the red;
- check whether the other services that you would like to maintain with your old bank are liable to generate movements on your payment account;
- return the payment cards linked to your payment account to the old bank. Credit/debit cards are the property of the issuing bank;
- order payment cards from the new bank.
- recover the electronic statements in the old bank, as they are receipts you should keep.

In principle, no charge is made to close a payment account. However, costs may be charged to close an account which has been open for less than twelve months; this is permitted by Article 74 of the modified Law of 10 November 2009 on payment services.

OUT-OF-COURT COMPLAINT RESOLUTION

Should any disputes arise between you and your bank you may refer the matter to the “Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier (CSSF)” which shall be competent to entertain complaints by clients of entities subject to its supervision and to approach those entities with a view to achieving an amicable settlement of such complaints.

Opening an out-of-court complaint resolution procedure with the CSSF is subject to the condition that the complaint has been dealt with by the management of the relevant professional beforehand. In this respect, the complaint must have been first submitted in writing to the manager responsible for complaint handling.

In the case where one month after having sent your complaint to the manager responsible for complaint handling, you have received neither a satisfactory answer nor an acknowledgement of receipt, you can apply for an out-of-court resolution of your complaint with the CSSF.

The CSSF can be reached by

GLOSSARY

Bank business day: a day, not being a legal or bank holiday, on which the relevant bank is open for business as required for the execution of a payment transaction.

Consumer: any natural person who is acting for purposes which are outside his trade, business, craft or profession.

Credit transfer: a national or cross-border payment service for crediting a payee's payment account with a payment transaction or a series of payment transactions from a payer's payment account by the payment service provider which holds the payer's payment account, based on an instruction given by the payer.

Direct debit: a national or cross-border payment service for debiting a payer's payment account, where a payment transaction is initiated by the payee on the basis of the payer's consent.

Payer: means a natural or legal person who holds a payment account and allows a payment order from that payment account or, where there is no payer's payment account, a natural or legal person who makes a payment order to a payee's payment account.

Payment account: means an account held in the name of one or more consumers which is used to withdraw cash, execute credit transfers, to place funds and execute direct debits (ex. current account).

Standing order: means any instruction given by the payer to his bank to execute credit transfers at regular intervals or on predetermined dates.
